AUDITOR'S QUARTERLY REPORT
PRESENTED TO COMMISSIONERS YESTERDAY.

The auditor and recorder's office yesterday presented the quarterly report to the board of county commissioners. The report is for the three months ending June 30 and shows the condition of the county treasury. The balance on hand on April 1 amounted to $30,419.61. The receipts during the quarter amounted to $73,890.04. These two sums total $104,309.65. Expenditures amounted to $64,005.75, which leaves a balance on hand July 1 of $40,303.90.

Reports were also presented to the board by the different township officials of the county.

One of the most important matters decided during the day was that rescinding the order made on June 13, dispensing with the service of one member of the paid fire department. The order was made on the recommendation of the grand jury, but it has been proven that this is liable to result disastrously to the property holders of Tonopah for the reduced force proved inadequate to handle serious situations. The reduction was made on the first of the month and today the vacancy will be filled by Chief W. J. Sinclair.

All of the town and county bills have been approved and allowed and now the board is at liberty to give its full attention to all matters that are brought before it.

CASH FARES WERE DEMANDED ON LOCAL ROAD

PASSENGERS ANGRY BECAUSE
TICKETS WERE NOT HONORED YESTERDAY.

It was an indignant crowd that arrived on the south bound train yesterday morning and many were the curses and maledictions hurled, not only at the train crew but heaped on the heads of the general management of the Tonopah and Goldfield road. The fast waning popularity of the road and its officials was helped on the decline for it appeared that an order had been issued cancelling all tickets that had been purchased to Reno and return, which contained the proviso that they were good for 30 days. The tickets were honored on the Southern Pacific train but when the crews changed at Mina, the conductor refused to accept them and demanded a cash fare.

Naturally the holders of the pasteboards put up a strenuous kick and refused to pay. An angry crowd gathered around the conductor and demanded an explanation. None was offered but the ticket puncher called a deputy sheriff of Esmeralda county, who happened to be aboard, and demanded protection. He evidently feared the wrath of the southern Nevadans, but the presence of the officer did not prevent them from calling him all sorts of choice names in which the word "scab" appeared to predominate.

From the reports of the passengers, after their arrival here, it is understood that several of the passengers paid their fares, while some refused. The ticket holders said they had purchased their round trip tickets with the understanding that they were good for thirty days. In fact an additional sum was paid for this privilege.

It would not be a bad idea for the state railroad commission to look into the matter and if there proves to be grounds of a violation of the interstate commerce laws, the guilty persons should be dealt with accordingly. However, the rapidity with which the state commission handles affairs of this sort, is of common knowledge in this section, and the members can be expected here in about two months to start their investigations.

MANY OFFICES TO BE FILLED AT THE PRIMARIES

COUNTY CLERK PUBLISHES LIST OF OFFICES TO BE FILLED IN THE COUNTY.

The first publication of a notice in compliance with the primary law is made this morning in the Bonanza in the form of a list of offices to be filled at the fall election, for which candidates are to be nominated at the primary election in September. The notice will be followed by others of like character up to ten days of the primaries, including the sample ballots to be used at the primaries.

On July 2 County Clerk Pohl received from the secretary of the state a list of offices for which nominations will be made in Nye county and from that he prepared the notice for publication. It will be published each week for six weeks beginning today.

The state and district offices to be filled include United States senator, congressman, governor, lieutenant governor, justice of the supreme court, secretary of state, state treasurer, state controller, surveyor general, attorney general, state printer, superintendent of public instruction, two university regents for long term and one for short term, inspector of mines and one district judge for the fifth judicial district.

For county and township offices the nominations will be necessary as follows:

Seven members of the assembly, sheriff, clerk, treasurer, recorder and auditor, district attorney, county commissioners (long and short term, one each), county surveyor, public administrator and justices of the peace and constables for all townships.

Twenty-five days before the primary election the secretary of state will transmit to the county clerk a list of primary candidates nominated. This the county clerk will publish for two successive weeks. Twenty days before the primaries the clerk will publish twice the sample ballot to be used at the primary election.

WILD CAT LAW INTERPRETED BY SUPREME COURT

ONLY ORIGINAL ISSUE OF CERTIFICATES WILL HAVE TO BE STAMPED.

The supreme court of Nevada has just handed down a decision in which certain of the involved sections of the Kendall wild cat law are clearly interpreted. The especial feature of the decision has reference to and clearly sets forth the opinion of the court as to section 6. This section relates the necessity of stamping as "Promotion or Treasury," those certificates issued in lieu of others sent in for transfer, and relieves the companies thus transferring from the necessity of so stamping such certificates. It was clearly the intent of the framers of the law to have it apply only to such certificates as were originally issued by the companies themselves, and for which the companies received the proceeds.

This matter was taken up to the court on the complaint of R. C. Moore, against the Manhattan-Verde company. Moore presented certain certificates to the Verde company for transfer and demanded that they be stamped in accordance with the provisions of the wild cat law. The company refused to so stamp them, taking the position that they were not required under the law to stamp "transfers."

The Verde company was represented by the local firm of McIntosh and Cooke, while Moore was represented by Judge J. A. Sanders. This interpretation is strictly in accord with a common sense view of the case. Had it been held otherwise then every certificate presented for transfer to a company not selling any stock and even though such company was a dividend payer and had not sold any stock for a term of years, must have been traced to its original issue and stamped according to what that chain of title showed.
